

February 2, 1951.

Dear Professor Barling:

If you can supply 100 - 150 gms. of L-rhamnose, I will be glad to purchase it for the .08/g. you mentioned. May I also take you up on your offer for the D-arabinose? L-arabinose is a compound we can obtain commercially in adequate amounts, and I would not be justified in accepting your offer of it, but my thanks nevertheless.

There is no special hurry about this at all. If you find it inconvenient to see the material here in person, I'll be glad to send a messenger after it. My University extension is 4217.

Sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg